

Zero tolerance for stray and unregistered dogs

The Town of Port Hedland's Ranger Services will be taking a tougher approach to minimising the number of stray and unregistered dogs on our streets, with an average of 55 dogs picked up by the rangers every month.

The initiative will see Rangers issuing on-the-spot fines for owners whose dog/s are found to be unconfined and roaming the street at large, and owners with unregistered dogs will face an additional on-the-spot-fine.

A number of stray dogs that are picked up by Ranger Services are also unregistered, making it harder for Rangers to return the dogs to their owners. Registration costs as little as $10 a year for sterilised dogs, and is due on the 1

November each year.

It is a requirement of the Dog Act (1976) that all dogs over the age of three months be registered by a person over 18 years of age. Failure to do so may lead to an infringement being issued.

Owners with unregistered dogs are encouraged to register their dogs at one of the following locations:

- South Hedland Library, Leake Street, South Hedland
- Town of Port Hedland Depot, Cajarina Street, Wedgefield
- Town of Port Hedland Civic Centre, McGregor Street, Port Hedland

Pensioners with an Aged Pension Card will receive a 50 percent concession on all registration fees.

The Town's Ranger Services are also offering a $50 rebate to owners who get their dogs sterilised. To be eligible for the rebate, owners must produce the following documentation:

- Proof of residence in the Town of Port Hedland (drivers license, recent utility bill etc)
- Copy of current Town of Port Hedland Dog Registration Certificate

Share 'Extraordinary' Port Hedland with the rest of WA

Earlier this week, the WA State Government launched the '1001 Extraordinary Experiences' campaign which includes a photography competition, where West Australians and visitors are asked to submit their best photo and experiences of WA to go in the running to win one of five WA holidays valued at $10,000.

1001 of the best photographs will be published on a new website for visitors to WA, which will provide them with tourism information on WA and assist them in planning their travel.

The Town of Port Hedland is encouraging local residents to participate and submit their best photos of Port and South Hedland, such as fishing on the Spoilbank, enjoying a BBQ in Pretty Pool Park, watching the ships at Marapikurrinya Park or turtle monitoring at Cemetery Beach Park.

All entries can be submitted on a dedicated Facebook page and closing date is 2pm, Thursday 28 March 2013.

The campaign is being fronted by West Australian cricket champion Adam Gilchrist, who submitted the first photo which is of a sunrise over Eagle Bay, in the South-West.

The '1001 Extraordinary Experiences' campaign is jointly funded by Tourism WA and Royalties for Regions.

For more information on what you could win, please visit the 1001 Extraordinary Experiences website.
